

Welcome to Middle School at the Jewish Learning Collaborative of MetroWest. Our school is a community where tweens and teens can engage their heads, hearts, and hands in meaningful experiences of Jewish life. Core partners in this program include TBS of Framingham, COA of Wayland, and Beth El of Sudbury, and our school is open to all students regardless of synagogue affiliation or denomination.

The middle school year is divided into three trimesters, which allows students to learn in multiple modes of study.

Fall: Students will learn in specific core classes for their grade.

Winter: Students will participate in the MetroWest STOP program

Spring: Students will choose electives

JLCMW 6th graders participate both in the middle school program and their own 'stand alone' 6th grade class on Sundays. This provides this age group with a year of both being the oldest students in our lower school program, and providing them with the opportunity to begin to chart their own course for their lifelong learning in community.
